

With ID90T's Universal Electronic Ticketing Platform there is NO CHARGE to connect and only one connection is needed to Interline with any of the carriers connected to the ID90T Platform.

Because of ID90T's ability to “translate” each airline’s protocol, making the connection to each airline's reservation system takes days, not weeks and allows each airline to maintain their current processes and protocols.

Finally, because ID90T's connection is made directly to each airline’s reservation system, not a GDS, other airline employees may now take advantage of the conveniences enjoyed by the employees of the transporting airline, such as online check-in.

Currently, if an airline has a direct Interline connection with another airline that changes its protocol / system, the airline would have to modify the protocol used to communicate with the other airline. If connected to the ID90T Platform, any changes made within the reservation system of the other airline are addressed by ID90T.
